VOL. XIX—NO 263 CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, SATURDAY, APRIL 12, 1919 TWO CENTS

FIRST STEPS ARE TAKEN IN COUNTY IMPROVED ROAD PROGRAM

Commissioners Will Act In Harmony With Good Roads Association

TO DECIDE ON BIG BOND ISSUE

As a result of the two road meetings held in Washington during the past few weeks the county is going to benefit by a progressive program in which the board of county commissioners have agreed to work in close harmony with the association just formed, and which has for its object the betterment of highway conditions in this immediate section of the State.

The first real step toward securing a comprehensive system of improved roads for Washington county was taken on Friday, when the commissioners by unanimous vote approved the tentative plan for the improvement of state highways in the county, which was agreed upon by the department and a committee from the Washington County Good Roads association last week.

The matter was presented to the full board of commissioners Friday afternoon by the executive committee of the road association and fully discussed and considered. Following the presentation of the plan of the executive committee a formal resolution agreeing to the terms proposed was drafted by the commissioners, certified over their seal and sent to Harrisburg Friday night.

The commissioners also went on record as being in favor of the plans for the resurfacing of all county-built roads covered by the State Highway routes, so that these roads may be taken over by the State permanently. The cost of this work will be approximately $250,000 and with state aid will yield about $750,000 for road improvement.

The commissioners were also asked to take the steps necessary for holding a special election to decide on a bond issue of $1,000,000 for highway improvement. They promised to take the matter up at a meeting the first of the week and render an early decision.

The tentative plan for road improvement in Washington county as agreed upon with the State Highway Department provides as follows:

From Hickory to Burgettstown.

The Monongahela pike.

Speers to Coal Centre.

West Middletown-Independence, to be followed by

Monongahela-Charleroi,

California-West Brownsville.

And the improvement by the state-aid method of the Canonsburg-Venice road.

WANTS ANOTHER TOUR OF FOREIGN DUTY

After a brief visit with friends in Webster, Lemuel Reese, aged 31 years, who recently returned from France, where he served in the Third Canadian Engineers, decided he wanted to see more service overseas so Friday night he left Pittsburg for the return trip as an infantryman of the United States Army. Reese, who is a native of Wales, before being accepted by the recruiting officers, went to the Federal Naturalization Bureau and obtained his first citizen papers by declaring his intention of becoming a citizen of this country. Mr. Reese served 11 months in France with the Canadian forces and took part in many activities on the Flanders fronts.

PUPILS SWELL BELGIAN FUND

In two-day Campaign raise A Large Amount Of Money For Charity

SECOND STREET IS THE LEADER

The pupils of the grade and Junior High of the Charleroi public schools solicited money on Thursday and Friday for the Belgian Babies relief fund, and the returns proved to be most gratifying. During the two day sale the pupils disposed of a sufficient number of tags to realize $464.86, which is certainly a splendid showing. All of the pupils worked under direction of Mrs. Ray Humbert, general chairman for Charleroi, as well as their respective teachers. The banner school of the district, was the Second Street school, which raised $156.42, while the banner room was No. 8 of the same school, taught by Mrs. Marie Ramsey. As a special mark of honor this room was presented with a Belgian flag.

The entire list of collections as reported through Superintendent Pollock was as followss:

Second street, $156.42 banner room, No. 8, collection $48.16, taught by Mrs. Marie Ramsey.

Bust From Roosevelt Death Mask

James E. Fraser, the noted New York sculptor, is making a bust of the late Colonel Roosevelt from the death mask taken of the former president. Fraser was a close personal friend of "Teddy's," and formerly made a bust from life of the great leader. This bust, shown here in the making, is being produced from the mask at the request of the family. Fraser is best known as the designer of the "Buffalo" nickle and his statue—"The end of the trail."

Will Be Represented By Strong Baseball Team

[illegible] characterized such events in the past.

Monongahela will also have a strong independent club in the field this year which will be prepared to meet all comers on the diamond. A few days ago Arch Osborne announced there would be no team in Charleroi this year, but evidently reconsidered the statement and now promises the people of the community a strong team, composed of local players, who will again battle for the supremacy in independent circles.

It is Archie's intention to assemble the clan which in the past furnished such a splendid brand of baseball to Charleroi patrons, and will have in line such players as Dawson, Harrell, Urben, Phillips, Russell, Boucher, Miller, Claybaugh, Joe and Frank Guder, Braithwood, the left hand pitcher, while Osborne himself will do some of the pitching. Other players will likely be added to the list, but those named above will likely start the season. Manager Osborne has already booked the Pittsburg Collegians for the 10th of May and it is proposed to open the season with all the trimmings and features which [illegible] team ands it is likely a series will be arranged with our down-river neighbor durmg the season. As many splendid players who were in the army last year have been released from service, it is expected that a large number of independent teams will be asking for local dates, and Manager Osborne will select his schedule from the best of them.

TO PETITION GRAND JURY FOR NEW ROADS

Upon petition to the court the county commissioners are going to lay before the May grand jury for improvement, two pieces of road, for their approval or disapproval, it being the intention of the commissioners, if they are approved, to improvei the same. One stretch is the Midway-Bulger road, while the second is the Coal Center road in Twilight and Long Branch boroughs.

PLANNING FOR THE COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL FIELD MEET

Date Fixed For Saturday, May 24, At College Park, Washington

LOCAL HIGH WILL TAKE PART

Assistant County Superintendent H. S. Kuder, president of the Washington County Athletic Association on Friday mailed to all high school principals of the county a letter relative to plans for the coming county field meet, which will be held at Washington on Saturday, May 24.

The event as planned will as in former years and will include a 100-yard dash, 880-yard run, 220-yard hurdles, 440-yard hurdles, 220-yard dash, mile relay, discus throw, pole vault, running high jump, 12-pound shot put, running broad jump.

The county high schools, as in former years, will be divided into two classes according to the present arrangement. This division of schools into two classes and the holding of preliminary contests in the morning give smaller schools a better chance to win recognition for their efforts. A silver cup will be awarded to the school in each class which wins the greatest number of points.

The letter sent out on Friday asks also for the enrollment of the various schools, the number of contestants which will appear for the field meet, the school colors, whether or not the school will be willing to help in the advance sale of tickets and other information.

The Charleroi high school will be represented at the meet, although it will be somewhat handicapped by the fact that some of their best athletes were graduated last month. However the school hopes to have a strong team in spite of this handicap.

WILL REORGANIZE THE NATIONAL GUARD

Steps for the reorganization of the National Guard of Pennsylvania as soon as the Keystone Division returns to Pennsylvania from France are being taken rapidly and the details of the location of units and the formation of regiments which will bear historic names of State Militia organizations are well in hand. It seems to have been definitely settled that the three artillery regiments will be reconstructed and that in addition to trench mortar battery and other units growing out of the war, the cavalry regiment will be formed again. It is expected that Gen. William G. Price, Jr., now in command of the artillery brigade of the Twenty eighth Division will be named as the commander of the new Division.

DISTRICT CONVENTION

Holds Fine Meeting And Elects And Installs New Officers

SPLENDID PROGRAM WAS GIVEN

The Charleroi District Sabbath School Convention, held Friday afternoon and evening in the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, was well attended in spite of the treatening weather practically all of the thirteen schools in the district being represented. The program as previously outlined was followed, the various speakers giving most helpful talks on Sunday school work, while the address of Miss Noble, was full of information of the most valuable kind for mothers. The talks given by Rev. C. A. Keller and Miss Edith Woodhall were splendid presentations of their subjects, while the conference held by Miss Mrances A. Cooper of Monongahela, County Superintendent of Children's Work, assisted by Mrs. G. M. Stewart, was helpful in every respect to district workers.

In the evening the address of Dr. Babcock, pastor of the First Baptist church of McKeesport, was a splendid presentation of the subject God's Architecture: Building Young Peoples Lives.

The following officers, who had been previously elected, were installed by W. S. James, former President of the County Association:

President, A. G. Lewis.

Vice President, Rev. C. G. Huffer.

DELLAY HELPED BOLSHEVISM

The gravest danger confronting this country today is the menace of Bolshevism. The nation is being deluged with propaganda to pave the way for revolution and the destruction of established government. The documents unearthed by a Senate committee are astounding in the boldness with which they preach all sorts of opposition to our governmental organization. The publications vary in size from books and pamphlets to leaflets and are printed in a number of languages. Workers, farmers and soldiers are appealed to, and all those in positions of authority and incitements to rob, burn and murder abound in much of the literature.

While some of the papers are in the form of posters and leaflets to be handed to individuals, most of them are intended for distribution through the mails. Apparently nothing is being done to deny the use of one of the great instrumentalities of the government by those who conspire to its overthrow. There is ample authority in the espionage law for the Postmaster General to prevent anarchists and other plotters against the established order of things from using the mails in the furtherance of their schemes, but while Mr. Burleson has not hesitated to threaten the publishers of certain newspapers with a denial of the mail privilege unless they conformed to certain policies laid down by him he appears to look the other way when incendiary propaganda is given to his Department for distribution. The fact that in some of the pamphlets Mr. Wilson is liberally quoted may account for the attitude of the Post Office officials. The Bolshevists evidently see in the President's utterance an invitation to upset exisuing institutions and dsplace our present leaders by individuals selected from the laboring classes, precisely as has been done in Russia. Prominence is given by the Bolshevists to Mr. Wilson's prediction of "the birth of a new day." "Every sign of these terrible days of war and revolutionary change," said he, "when economic and social forces are being released upon the world whose effect no political seer dare venture to conjecture, bids us search our hearts through and make them ready for the birth of a new day—a day, we hope and believe of greater opportunity and greater prosperity for the average mass of struggling men and women."

While at first glance such a statement appears to breathe a lofty sentiment for the improvement of social conditions, and in normal times would be accepted without comment, in these days of unrest it has been seized upon by the social revolutionists to support their anarchistic propaganda. They see in it an invitation to the "mass of struggling men and women" to get "ready for the birth of a new day," and very naturally interpret it to mean that they shall rise up and overthrow the standards of former days.

LOST OPPORTUNITIES

The opportunities we have fumbled juggled, lost irretrievably, are the ones that nine times out of ten have kept us plugging along with our noses to the grindstone. And is keeping us on the job today.

Occasionally the thing we thought was opportunity, but wasn't, has helped.

For every once in a while something comes along and seems to give us opportunity's password and we find when it is too late that it was a fake.

But there's no fake about these opportunities that Uncle Sam has been offering. They were the genuine article.

None about the one that's coming, the Victory Liberty Loan.

You cannot go wrong in taking advantage of them to the limit of your resources. You cannot lose if you have and hold his bonds. You will never go broke with government securities in your safety deposit box.

Any bank in the country will make you a loan against them any time.

And you can always count upon the interest being paid when due.

You cannot always depend upon a certain return from many another investment offering that seems to promise a far greater return. Most of these are hitched up to a risk that is real. You know when you buy them that you're taking a chance. And not infrequently the day comes when you appreciate it most keenly and regretfully. It is the chance that matures first.

Uncle Sam is extending you an opportunity shortly to mix your patriotism and your business judgment to a mutual advantage.

He needs your money for a myriad of uses. And every one of them will inure to your future benefit, the national welfare. He offers you an inviting interest return for its use. And a greater and more permanent prosperity.

It is an opportunity that every loyal American will embrace. An opportunity that if put aside you must always regret. An opportunity that will head the list of those you have labeled "lost."

It's an opportunity that means much to him but most to YOU.

Don't let it pass.

LOOKS PROMISING

As a result of the two meetings held in Washington it may be possible for the county to ultimately acquire many additional miles of improved roads. The feeling which prevailed in Washington on Wednesday among the representative citizens from all parts of the county seemed to indicate a positive desire for a progressive program when it comes to building good roads. It may take some years to realize our ambitions, but a constructive policy can be placed under way which will eventually give the county many additional miles in the way of improved highways and of which the county is badly in need.

In order that our desires in this respect may be realized a bond issue has been suggested, the proceeds of which would be used for this purpose, reinforced by a similar amount from the state, which would make possible undertakings which the county alone could not accomplish. In addition to these funds, progressive townships would want a part in the campaign, and this feature would add materially to the plan which is now in contemplation.

Conditions look very promising at the present time for getting our county out of the mud and giving us many additional miles of superior highways.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE

According to Frank Simonds, the New York Times' Paris correspondent and well known war writer, President Wilson finds himself alone in the deliberations of the peace conference, Lloyd George being compelled to change front by his constituents, who demanded that he stand out for reparation from Germany. Mr. Simonds is regarded as a very conservative writer and his view of the situation as it appears to him at the PaPris conference is eagerly scanned by the American people.

Due to cable censorship the people of the United States have been unable to get a correct view of the situation in France, and the people of Europe, for the same reason, have been unable to get a true conception of the feelings of the American people. Occasionally we manage to get a glimpse of conditions "as they are," but it is only a fleeting glance, which makes it difficult for us to gauge the opinions of the people overseas, and it is probable the same difficulty exists there.

If what Mr. Simonds says is a true description of conditions as they exist at the peace conference, the prospects for a satisfactory peace are not very flattering.

THE AUDITING

The monthly compendium of the House of Representatives made public yesterday, shows that the Sixty-sixth Congress during its three sessions of war legislation appropriated about $57,000,000,000. This is considerably more than fifty times the total which gave the celebrated Billion Dollar Congress its historic name and fame.

Two salient facts about the Fifty-seven Billion Dollar Congress may be stated briefly

1. The expenditure by the Wilson administration of the money thus appropriated for the winning of the war has yet to be audited in the political sense; but the process of audit in the political sense is bound to come.

2. The Republic is prosperous and patriotic enough to support a fifty-seven billion dollar Congress whenever a fifty-seven billion dollar Congress is needed to vindicate American honor or protect American interests; but it is not and never will be prepared to support a fifty-seven billion dollar Congress to finance, to police and to regulate the entire planet on part of which we live.—N. Y. Sun.

TAKIN' 'EM OFF.

They begin to scratch a little at this time of year and each moist irritation becomes an imp of spring prodding the weavering citizen to desert his firm ideals of health and take 'em off, says the Chicago Tribune.

But takin' 'em off when the first (and last) bock beer signs appear and the diligent householder is seen struggling heatedly with the storm windows and the summer screens is a sign of weakness. Keepin' 'em on during the equinox approaches the ruggedness of the man who used yellow soap on his teet. It is good for the character.

The thoughtful citizen breathes deeply of spring air in the morning and greets the sun with a broad smile but he fares forth with an umbrella, gum shoes, and a raincoat, for who knows but the sleeve of Jupiter Pluvius, whence issues coy vernal showers, also contains a buffet of snow for the unwary. Jupiter is a droll wag, hence keep 'em on.

The suburban roads bloom with new painted signs telling of chickens and fish; but spring chickens can be immortal in cold storage and so also fish wherefore, be not unduly romantic, but rather keep steadfast and reflect that while cold storage spring poultry may be immortal, you, if you take 'em off, are suddenly nit.

The first buds, the first blades of grass, the first b arefoot boy, the first in swimming, and the first open air peanut vendors are irrevocable signs of spring. Youth begins to sign like a furnace and the elders sigh for garden sass from the salad patch. Certainly they begin to itch and irritate and plead, but spring is historically a falsifier; so don't be led astray; keep 'em on.

A BEFUDDLED JUDGE

A federal judge has decided in a civil suit that the war ended when the armistice was signed, basing his decision upon President Wlson's statement to Congress. "Thus the war has come to an end." Poor judge! He evidently does not know that we were in the war many months before President Wilson declared us in, and may be in it many months after Wilson declared us out.

California indignantly objects to being abbreviated into "Calif," but that is no worse than "Me". "Pa," "Gea." "Miss," "Mich." "Ill," "Minn," "Wis," "Neb." etc. to say nothing of "Wash."

TRY A CLASSIFIED WANT AD

TO DISPLAY POSTERS ON TUESDAY NEXT

Beginning with Tuesday, April 15, the publicity matter for the Victory Liberty Loan will be distributed to the people of the county. This literature will consist of leaflets appealing to every type and group of possible readers and especially suitable for distribution on special occasions; leaflets for schools, churches, banks, granges, factories, etc., and there will be dodgers also—brief headline arguments to be given out in large quantities.

A book of facts to serve as a source of general information, in which there will be an outline of the essential points in regard to this loan and the desirability of universal support of the loan and concise information in regard to the actual expenses to be met by it.

In addition to these leaflets and book of facts, the posters will play their usual important part in keeping the significance of the loan before the people. Complete sets of ten posters each are being sent by Chairman Daly to all sections of the eastern area of the county and these will be put up on Tuesday. These posters are all of different designs and are regarded in many respects as superior to any which have heretofore been issued.

DEMONSTRATION BY A LOCK EXPERT

S. R. Brooks, lock expert of Cleveland, Ohio, a veteran of the civil war and who had members of his own family in the great war with Germany, is in Charleroi, and is giving a series of exhibitions of locks, in which he is demonstrating a special make of his own which he claims is proof against all burglars. The demonstration is being given at the cycle shop of C. W. Albright, Jr., McKean avenue, and is of a most interesting character.

Mr. Brooks is a lock expert in every sense of the word. He claims that with the most simple instrument it is possible for him to open 19 out of every twenty locks, while Yales and Corbins are just pastime for him. Mr. Brooks has made a study of locks for 45 years and has a number of patents issued by the government and he is frank enough to admit that some of them are of no practical use For his patent lock and burglar alarm, however, he does claim to have a superior article, one that is burglar proof and one that will lock a door or a window in every sense of the word. It is this lock Mr. Brooks is demonstrating, showing its flexibility as well as its feasibility. He will be on the ground next to the Albright store until late this evening, where those interested may see the exhibition free of charge.

An exchange calls attention to the fact that this time fourteen years ago fresh eggs were selling for 20 cents a dozen.

THESE MEN SERVED WITH BRITISH ARMY

Alex D. Marzio, a member of Co. G, 117th Regiment, from Ellsworth and Steve Ktzvinsky, a member of Co. D, of the same regiment from Coal Centre, arrived in Charleroi this morning from Camp Dix on their way to their respective homes. They arrived from overseas on the 27th of March and were mustered out in Camp Dix on Friday.

The 117th Regiment was made up principally of men from Tennessee and was a part of the 30th Division. This Division was attached to the British Army and served both in Belgium and France, being first engaged before Ypres, and later at the Somme, where with the 27th Division they broke the Hindenburg line. Marzio, who went over the top three times and was wounded twice, while Ktzinsky went over four times, twice with the rifles and twice as a stretcher bearer. He escaped without a scratch.

These men entered the service from the Fourth District of Washington county, being inducted on the 25th of February, 1918. They served thirteen months in France and both of them had very exciting experiences.

They brought with them their iron helmets which they wore while in service as well as their gas masks this being part of their equipment the government permitted them to retain. Both men looked to be in splendid health but they were glad to return home.

CONFINED TO HOME BY HIS INJURIES

John O. Watson, county commissioner, is confined to his home at Lock Four, as the result of burns to one of his feet, received Tuesday night last while cleaning his automobile. Mr. Watson went to Washington the following day to attend the good roads meeting but has been compelled to remain indoors for the past couple of days to nurse his injuries. On Friday Commissioners Hill and Barnum as well as a special committee from the good roads convention, met at his home and adopted the resolutions which approve of the program outlined by the convention held on Wednesday.

Liege Disappointed Erasmus.

It is not very flattering to Liege, but Liege can always comfort herself with the thought that it was written by a disappointed friend. "I have come a little out of my way," wrote Erasmus, who was going from Louvain to Switzerland, "to see an old friend and enjoy the sight of so famous a city. But by some ill luck of my own I am disappointed of both objects. You are away and the town has pleased me so much that I never left a place with more satisfaction. Farewell."—Christian Science Monitor.

Victory Verities

The people who spend more than they can afford are those who have not had money long—and won't keep it long.

A frugal man lives carefully and saves persistently.

The industrious man works hard and saves hard; the miser skimps and hoards; but the man of thrift earns largely, plans carefully, manages economically, saves consistently and invests in the Victory Loan.

It is true that many loans, money and cups of sugar, are forgotten or unpaid. Our Uncle Samuel, however, gives us a bond for our little loans—"lest we forget" he even pays interest on it to make it interesting. We used to borrow from our Uncle; now our Uncle is borrowing from us.

HEROES OF YPRES TO PLAY IN DISTRICT FOR VICTORY LOAN

GREAT WAR VETERANS BAND OF CANADA GOES ON TOUR WEEK BEFORE SELLING DRIVE BEGINS.

The Great War Veterans' Band of Ottawa, Canada, every member of which possesses a hero medal, will make a tour of the Fourth Federal Reserve District in the interest of the Victory Loan. The band will be out a week ahead of the selling drive.

Of the thirty men in the band, several are veterans of the Boer war and have also served under the British flag in India and Egypt as well as in France. They represent at least twelve different British army divisions and will wear their individual division badges on their caps.

Lieutenant T. W. James, in charge of the band, took the first Canadian army band to France in 1914. He was promoted in the field.

Not only is this band composed entirely of wounded veterans, but several were so seriously wounded that it is regarded as remarkable that they are able to continue to play.

The solo cornet player and drum major was shot through the hand and holds his cornet to his mouth by straps fastened around his neck. The solo trombone player wears five medal ribbons for bravery. He was bayoneted and shot through the chest, but plays with his one uninjured lung.

The band will travel throughout the entire district and will be accompanied by prominent speakers and a squad of live wire salesmen.

While this will be the first official appearance of this band on American soil it will not be the first time the band has played to Americans. The same organization recently accompanied former President William H. Taft on his trip to Pembroke.

Martin Is Savage.

Spite the Martin is a member of the Weasel family, as one should know at a glance. He is long-bodied, with comparatively short legs and a bushy tail. In some respects, he looks something like a red fox. He is about 18 inches long, and his tail adds 7 or 8 inches. Spite goes by several names. He is often called the American sable and also the pine martin. Unlike his cousins, the mink and the weasel, he shuns the neighborhood of man and is found only in the deep forests of the northern half of America. He is a lover of the trees and can travel through the tree-tops with all the agility of a squirrel. In fact, he not infrequently catches squirrels. Like all members of the Weasel family, he feeds on flesh and is savage and merciless. However, he does not kill for the mere pleasure of killing, as some of the others do. His food consists of birds, eggs, insects, reptiles and small animals of all kinds. He is restless in the extreme and a great traveler.—From The People's Home Journal.

Statisticians have figured out that England eats the larger part of Europe's output of cheese. Europe's output amounts to 340,000,000 kilograms. England alone consumes 180,000,000 kilograms of this amount. Next comes Holland, which takes 56,000,000; Switzerland takes 43,000,000; France, 31,000,000, and Germany 20,000,000 kilograms. The only people on earth who eat no cheese are the Chinese.
